Following the sale, Auctioneer and Expert-in-charge, Thomas Del Mar, commented: "We were delighted to welcome our long standing clients as well as a number of new faces to the pre-sale exhibition and the sale itself. Internet bidding continues to be lively, as do the more traditional forms of telephone, commission and live bidding. While the market is a little more selective in some areas we were pleased with the overall result. Both the Siamese sword and the cased pistols reflect the on-going desire for people to acquire great objects in excellent condition."
